The area around Torrevieja is very popular amongst tourists due to the micro-climate, which annually gives average temperatures of approx. 21, and between 300-330 days of sunshine a year. The mountains in the area, are all about 10-15 kilometers inland. This gives a hilly, but relatively flat area. This mountain zone combined with the large salt lakes, the Mar Menor Sea and the Mediterranean Sea gives an evaporation of the clouds over Torrevieja. There can often be seen clouds around the mountains inland, while coastal area enjoys the sun.
